Key Customer Themes

General Satisfaction (Positive)
Users overwhelmingly praise the platform for its user-friendly, intuitive, and smooth interface. It is consistently described as the "best" for beginners and SIP investments.

Infrastructure and System Stability (Negative)
A critical backend failure occurred on Oct 6, characterized by "No healthy upstream" errors that locked users out of both the app and website. Additionally, users reported app "hanging" and launch failures following updates, as well as a lack of landscape support for Android tablets.

Conversion and Onboarding Friction (Negative)
Technical failures in high-intent funnels are causing user drop-offs. Specific issues include non-clickable T&C checkboxes during IPO applications and failures in uploading birth certificates for minor accounts.

Financial Transparency and Support Trust (Negative)
There is a recurring pattern of distrust regarding fee deductions, with reports of unexplained debits (one claiming 15K) and opaque MTF charges. This is worsened by support failures, including 3-week delays in verification links and a high-severity allegation that a support agent claimed Groww does not follow SEBI guidelines (Complaint no: 27810090).

Professional Tooling Gaps (Mixed)
Active traders are requesting professional-grade features to transition from beginner to power user, specifically: Chart Replay for backtesting, auto-trailing stop losses, and granular market cap breakdowns within the MF dashboard.

Verified Facts:
- All brokerage and statutory charges are standardized and transparently listed on the official pricing page.

Recommended Actions
1. Infrastructure Resilience Audit: Conduct a Root Cause Analysis (RCA) of the "No healthy upstream" error and post-update stability bugs to implement redundancy and prevent total lockouts.
2. Emergency Conversion Patch: Immediately fix the IPO T&C checkbox and minor account document upload failures to stop user drop-off in critical investment funnels.
3. Simplify Fee Transparency: Implement an in-app "Easy-Read" version of the contract note that translates jargon into plain English, explaining exactly why a deduction occurred to reduce support volume.
